LETTER FROM LAURA

Dear All,

Whenever I come across the Parable of the Sower I have a tendency to skim over it. It is a passage so familiar, so chewed over, that I have consigned it to the 'well acquainted' pile, along with the Good Samaritan and the Prodigal Son.

As a result of an essential rota change, I recently found myself needing to prepare an unexpected homily. Imagine my joy when I discovered it was to be the Parable of the Sower, a passage so familiar! I had an advantage, I had studied it many times before; the groundwork was already in place. I could give it another read over and start making some notes straight away.

Except when I read it again I realised that, whilst it is indeed familiar, it had been remiss of me to keep skimming past it whenever it came up. How imprudent of me to think that because I knew what it said I would be heeding its instructions! As I read through the text again, poised to jot down my notes, I had a realisation. Surprise, surprise, my soil needs some attention! It seems the passage has just as much to say to me as it did the very first time I heard it.

This time reading the passage, I found myself identifying with the soil containing thorny weeds "other seed fell among thorns, which grew up and choked the plants" (Mark 4:7). I read the word of God and I see God at work.

But if I allow my days and weeks to become too loaded with busyness, then there is a real risk that I might miss opportunities to recognise Jesus speaking to me - either through the scriptures, other people, events, sparks of thought, or dreams.

I am reminded that if we desire to hear God speaking to us, we will need to eliminate some of the mental clutter and slow down, taking the time to really listen and understand what He might be saying to us. In the poignant words of John Mark Comer, “If the devil can’t make you sin, he will make you busy”. Can you identify with that soil?

Or perhaps you identify more with the soil that has a path right through the middle “some [seed] fell along the path, and the birds came and ate it up” (Mark 4:4). You hear the word of God, but you hear lots of other things too and you aren’t sure what to believe or which direction to go in. You set out on a journey with Jesus, but then things grind to a halt or you go in a different direction and don’t really put down firm roots.

Or perhaps it is the rocky ground you identify with: “some [seed] fell on rocky places, where it did not have much soil. It sprang up quickly, because the soil was shallow. But when the sun came up, the plants were scorched, and they withered because they had no root” (Mark 5:5-6). You have heard the word of God and you have accepted it into your hearts. But the challenges of life and the difficult things around you have been distressing and they have damaged your root, making you feel that your faith is a bit wobbly - not as life-giving as it should be.

As we reflect on our own lives and realise that our soil is perhaps a little more parched or weed-ridden than we would ideally like it to be, I am reminded that this parable is rather unsettling. I wonder if it is that, rather than over-familiarity, that made me so quick to pass it by?

But it is March, and the season of Lent begins this month. Lent is traditionally a time for self-reflection, a time to pause amidst the busyness and untangle our thoughts and experiences before God.

Sometimes doing so can be uncomfortable. But just as soil quality improves when it is raked up and agitated, our journey with Jesus can be improved by running a soil quality control test on ourselves; it gives us a fresh opportunity to recalibrate and assess where we are with God.

So maybe this Lent you could try returning to the Parable of the Sower, using it to help you to reflect upon where you are in your faith journey. Which soil do you identify with and what steps might you want to take to give your soil a bit of compost during this season? Who might be able to help you with that? What are your rhythms of life, and are they helping you to draw closer to Jesus?

But as you rake your soil and reflect on where you are, remember that Lent is a time for moving closer to God, not a time for self-punishment. God is abundantly generous. Even when we get it wrong and our soil is crumbly and meagre, he is still willing to accept us as we are, and to work with us and through us. Whilst we persevere with our soil, we can be totally confident that Christ will always persevere with us. So by all means give your soil a rake and some compost this Lent, it is healthy to do so. But always remember that even in the driest of deserts or through the tiniest of cracks in the pavement, a seed can still begin to grow - God is always at work!

healthy to do so. But always remember that even in the driest of deserts or through the tiniest of cracks in the pavement, a seed can still begin to grow - God is always at work!

LENT BOOK RECOMMENDATIONS

1. Embracing Justice by Isabelle Hamley

Embracing Justice is the Church of England's theme for Lent 2022, and the Church of England will be offering Live Lent reflections via their social media platforms based on this book. It invites us to examine our own lives truthfully, to see the world more deeply and to pray – for the church and the world far and near – that 'justice may roll down like waters, and righteousness like an ever-flowing stream' (Amos 4.24).

In this book, Isabelle Hamley invites us on an exhilarating journey through Scripture to discover how we, as churches, communities and individual Christians, can seek and practise justice even when enmeshed in such a fractured world.

Embracing Justice weaves together biblical texts, diverse voices, contemporary stories, and personal meditations to reveal liberating and imaginative ways in which we may grow in discipleship – and more fully reflect the justice, mercy and compassion of Christ in our lives.

With six chapters to take you from Ash Wednesday to Easter Sunday, this Lent devotional for 2022 is great for anyone interested in the issues of justice – from climate and economic justice to gender and racial equality – that are increasingly at the forefront of global consciousness, and the role that Christians and the Church must play in them.

Priced £8.38 at Eden.co.uk or £7.99 at Amazon.co.uk

2. Women of Holy Week by Paula Gooder

Paula Gooder uses her extensive biblical expertise to retell the events of the Crucifixion, Resurrection and Ascension through the eyes of nine female characters she imagines accompanying Jesus during these momentous days.

Accompanied by nine colour illustrations, each story brings to life the tension, drama and shock of the events of Holy Week, banishing any over-familiarity and helping readers enter into the Passion narrative in a deeper, more meaningful way.

Originally given as a series of addresses at Southwark Cathedral during Holy Week 2021, these nine stories are great for anyone who longs to encounter Jesus afresh through the Easter Story.

Priced £9.98 at Eden.co.uk or £9.45 on Amazon.co.uk

3. The Art of Lent by Sister Wendy Beckett

This book provides a slightly different approach and is great for those who enjoy reflecting on works of art. The Lent reflections within this little book are inspired by both famous and lesser-known works of art. From the Hokusai's Great Wave to Rembrandt's The Return of the Prodigal Son, these reflections draw from the emotions and spiritual truths behind the paintings.

Each of the days is based around a different theme. From joy to tranquillity, courage to sacrifice - the messages from The Art of Lent are short meditations designed to leave you with questions of your own to continue to reflect upon.

Priced £8.84 at Eden.co.uk or £7.41 on Amazon.co.uk

4. We Make the Road by Walking by Brian McLaren

Here is a year's worth of reflections on the Bible, each one easily read aloud in ten to twelve minutes. Working with the framework of the church year, they provide a Genesis-to-Revelation overview of the Bible.

It is a good introduction to those new to faith but it also offers long-term Christians reorientation from a fresh perspective. This book seeks to help you to put your faith into action.

You can start this book at any time of the year, and section three - which journeys through Lent - will be used as the resource for our Lent material in church this year. The material will be studied within all of our Home Groups and also in an extra group that will be formed as a Lent Group. All are welcome to join either the Lent Group or one of our House Groups (which could just be for Lent).

Priced £10.99 at both Eden.co.uk and Amazon.co.uk

The Lent Group will meet on Monday afternoons in St John's Church. So that we have an idea how many people to expect, please give your name to Gill in the office or one of the clergy.

To find out more about a Home Group to join, contact sarahshepherd@btinternet.com

There are a number of groups meeting at various times and on various days.

CHOOSE TO LOSE

On the weekend of 12th February, our young people took part in the Open Doors, Choose to Lose Sponsored Challenge. They chose to go without something they love for a day, a weekend, or even longer, for example their phones, their screens, or their favourite food!

They did this because at least 360 million Christians around the world have lost things they love because of their faith in Jesus. That's one in every seven Christians on the planet. Some have lost family, friends, safety and freedom. Yet they choose to follow Jesus despite the fear of arrest, prison, rejection, threats, violence and death.

So, by losing something they loved just for a short time, our young people were standing alongside our Christian brothers and sisters.

If you would like to donate to this challenge, please use the following link:

https://www.justgiving.com/fundraising/sjslchoose-to-lose?utm_source=Sharethis&utm_medium=fundraising&utm_content=sjslchoose-to-lose&utm_campaign=pfp-email&utm_term=e329359ce2e9463ba68e20e9749c6e16

Total raised so far is £280! Well done, youngsters, for your sacrifice, and for making us aware of the hardship some Christians face because of their faith, and the work of OPEN DOORS in helping them.

QUESTION CORNER

Q Should the death penalty be brought back for murderers? The Bible says ‘an eye for an eye’.

A That text is in Exodus 21, 24 and Leviticus 24 and Deuteronomy 19, beside some terrible laws which people added to the laws given to Moses, and presented as God-given! You could be stoned for kidnapping, striking parents, adultery, homosexuality, working on the Sabbath, wearing the wrong clothes, and over 600 laws including not trimming your beard (fortunately no death penalty for that!) A captured enemy would be blinded in both eyes if he had damaged one of yours. Then an UPDATED rule said ‘an eye (only ONE) for an eye’, only slightly more civilised. Many still try to quote this text as justification for revenge.

But Jesus corrected this – ‘You know what our forefathers said, but what I’m telling you is this’. And in Matthew 5, 38-45, which also includes reference to ‘an eye for an eye’, he says ‘love your enemies’. This kind of love is about caring and respect for life. The Good Samaritan story is an example of loving your neighbour AND caring for someone regarded as an enemy. (Jews and Samaritans didn’t mix.) During the war, the Geneva Convention ensured that Prisoners of War were treated humanely.

‘An eye for an eye’, set in a war context, can’t be quoted to support the death penalty, and murderers are in a different category. But Jesus’s correction of that text says something very different from ‘tit-for-tat’, getting your own back – or ‘a life for a life’. Certainly people should be severely punished for terrible crimes, but taking another life is surely not the answer.

BILTON CONSERVATION GROUP

A BIT ABOUT WHAT WE DO

Bilton Conservation Group has been planting trees in Nidd Gorge, Bilton, New Park and local schools since 1985. A walk down the Nidderdale Greenway from Bilton Lane to the viaduct bears evidence on either side and into the fields. What today looks like a pleasant country lane was bare railway ballast in 1982 with nothing taller than a few weeds.

Diamond Jubilee Wood

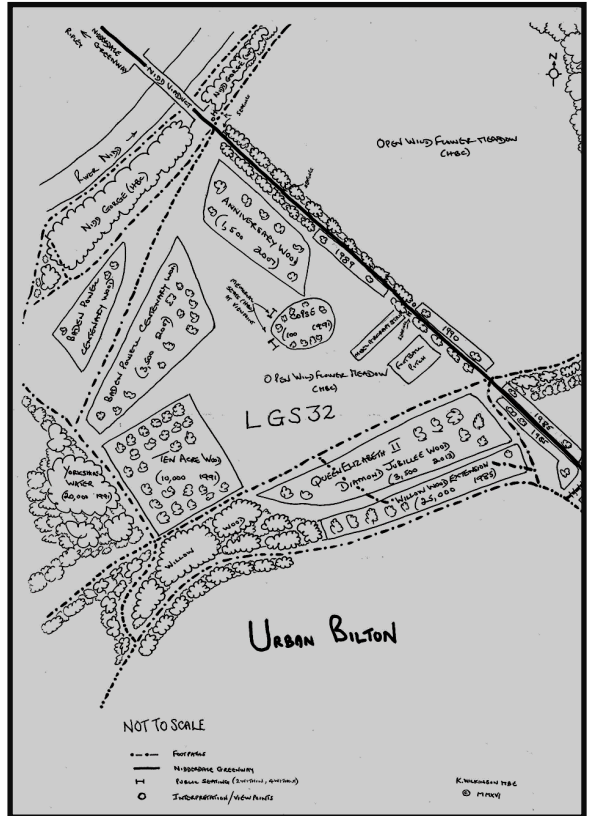

This is Diamond Jubilee Wood today

Our last major planting was in 2012/2013 when we celebrated H.M Queen Elizabeth's Diamond Jubilee. This is

On 26th February 2022 we hope to plant 2,021 broadleaf trees, sponsored by the Society of the Holy Child Jesus to celebrate the 175th year of their foundation. A smaller wood 'Victory Wood' will follow later in the year with the planting of another 500 native species.

SONGS OF PRAISE

I retired from full-time ministry 19 years ago on 1st April, and Linda and I came to Harrogate and joined up with St John's and St Luke's. We were invited to Songs of Praise, and in 2006 Linda was asked to become the co-ordinator. Around that time the pianist retired, and I took over that role.

Now Linda feels physically unable to continue, and at 84 I'm not getting any younger. So, sadly, we are saying that that we will not be arranging any more Songs of Praise sessions. Obviously that would not mean the end of Songs of Praise, but, alongside that, and more to the point, over the past two years many of our regulars have died (now singing songs of praise in a new life!). Others have become house-bound. So we are down to a handful and must be realistic, and draw a line under S.O.P. We are sorry that those who are looking forward to starting again will be disappointed. Perhaps something new will come from this.

And there are various groups in the church which meet different needs.

Special thanks to Enid and the ladies who have served such delicious teas, and to Nigel, Jane and Sam for setting up tables etc for us. Let's also give thanks for Sally Conday who started it all.

Hopefully Songs of Praise can come back in a new way – so KEEP SINGING!

David

Thanks go to David and Linda for all they have given to Songs of Praise over the years. Those of us who have enjoyed the hymns and songs, the personal testimony, finding out more about hymn and song writers and composers, and, of course, the tea and cakes and companionship, will be sad.

But as David says, this may lead to something new.

PLEASE PRAY

that the right person will see and respond to our search for a new

TEAM VICAR

to work with our leadership team,
and to enable further outreach in North Harrogate.

ANOTHER DEFIBRILLATOR FOR BILTON

All the necessary permissions have been granted for the installation of a defibrillator on St John's Church Hall.

So look out for it appearing. Thanks to Gill, our administrator, for her diligence, and for our Councillors who have supported us in our fundraising. Let us pray that it is not needed, but that, if it is used, it is effective in saving a life.

WATER AID BENEFITS FROM A VERY SUCCESSFUL FEBRUARY COFFEE MORNING

The hard work of church volunteers combined with the generous support of church and community members to raise the fabulous sum of £645 (which the UK government will double!) for Water Aid.

EVERYONE HAS A ROLE TO PLAY

We celebrate the many volunteers involved in so many ways within our church family - at worship through music and word and flower arranging, running the sound desk and managing the technology, serving refreshments afterwards - in maintenance and cleaning of our church buildings - in keeping the churchyard in order - in pastoral care - in the many groups that meet during the week: Thirst, Wellbeing Café, Comfort Café, Community Lunch, Youth Groups, Alpha, Coffee Mornings and more. There are also the 'hidden' jobs - eg washing church linen and tea-towels, mending choir robes, shopping, tidying books.

Is there something that you could do? However big or small, we are all part of this church family, and we all have a role to play.
